

Helpline reports from 2015-2020

These data are collected from reports to the Revenge Porn Helpline from 2015-2020. The combinations of these graphs outline the trends established at the Helpline during a five-year period.

Nearly double the previous year

Reports to the helpline

Gender and suspected perpetrator

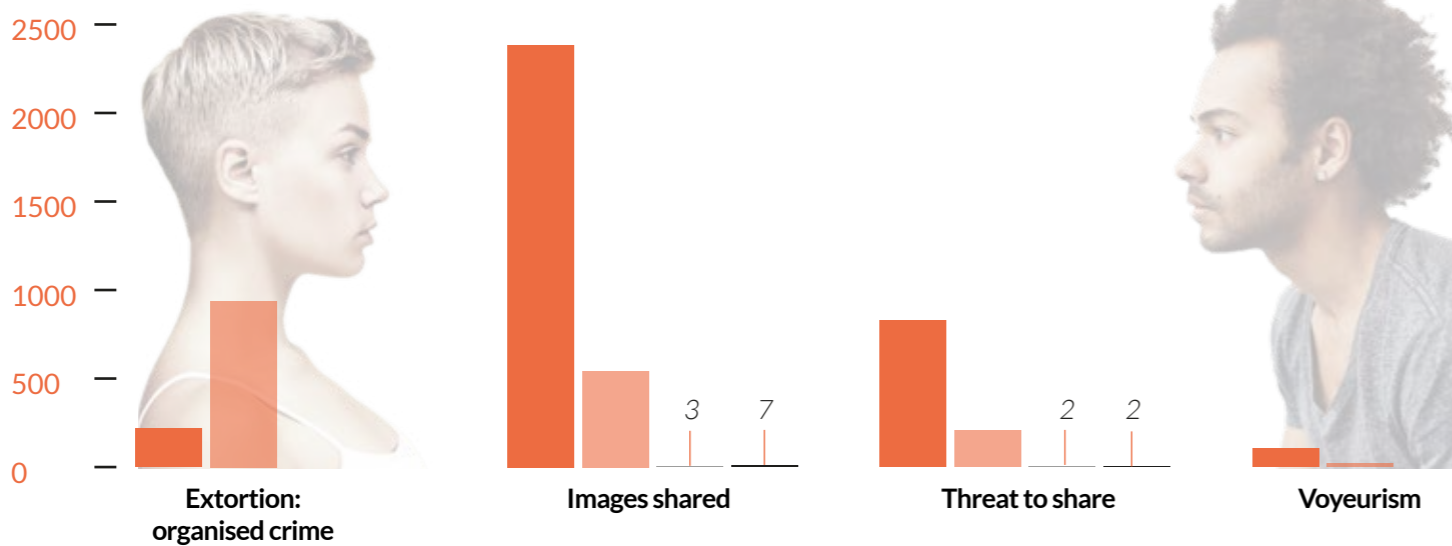

“After contacting you, you made me realise I should stop blaming myself, sharing images with someone you once trusted does not give them any right to share with anybody. In fact, they should delete once asked. Thank you for all your help and advice. I appreciate it.”

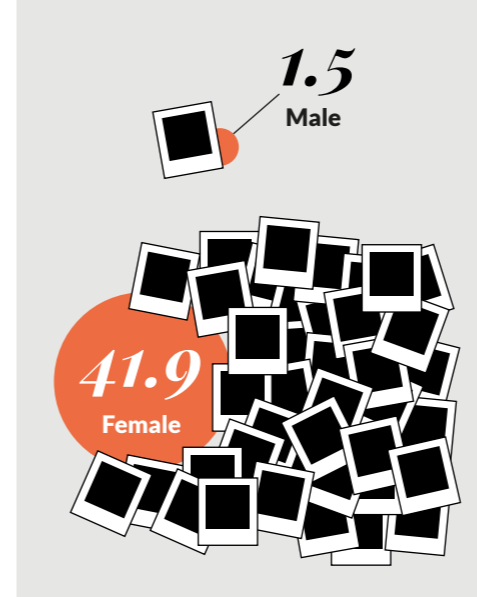

“You save people dignity and lives.”

Issue reported by gender

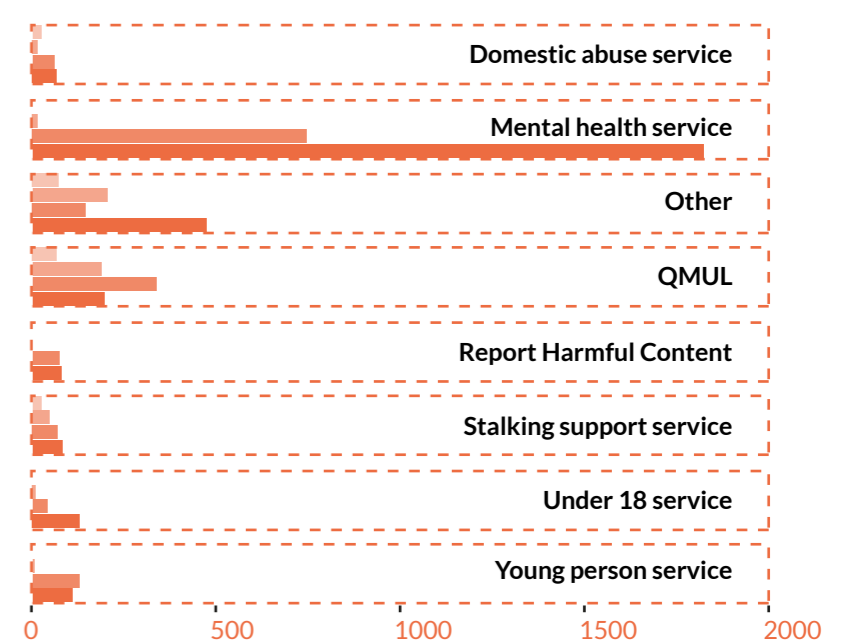

Female Male Prefer not to say Transgender

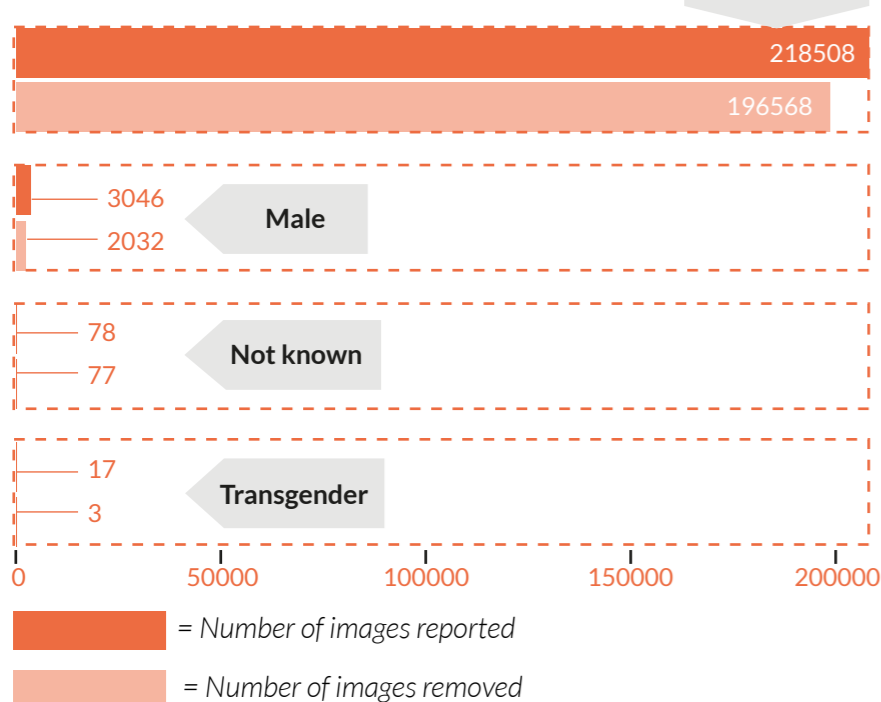

Average number of images reported

External services signposted to

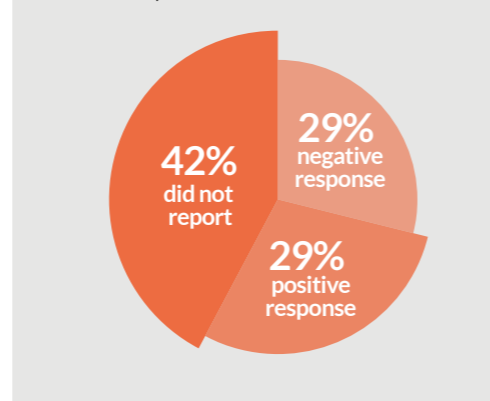

Number of images reported/removed by gender of victim

Victim	Perpetrator
	Male	Female
Male	7.5%	8.7%
Female	77%	6.9%

Police responses

“It was just nice to have someone to tell – it’s quite a lonely experience.”

“Thank you for everything you do. All I needed that night when it all happened was a friendly voice on the other end of the phone to give me advice and tell me I was okay. You gave me the confidence to stand up for myself and to open up to my family about what had happened. I felt less alone after speaking to your team.”

